

Vasomotor Rhinitis

Causes of Vasomotor rhinitis

Cause of Vasomotor rhinitis: Unclear but often triggered by dry air

Triggers list for Vasomotor rhinitis: The list of triggers mentioned in source as possible causal factors for Vasomotor rhinitis includes:

- Dry atmosphere
- Low humidity

Related information for causes of Vasomotor rhinitis: Further relevant information on causes of Vasomotor rhinitis may be found in the risk factors for Vasomotor rhinitis and underlying causes of Vasomotor rhinitis.

Symptoms of Vasomotor rhinitis

List of symptoms of Vasomotor rhinitis: The list of symptoms mentioned in various sources for Vasomotor rhinitis includes:

- Recurring nasal inflammation
- Nasal membrane swelling

Sneezing

Runny nose

Profuse watery nasal discharge

More symptoms of Vasomotor rhinitis: In addition to the above information, to get a full picture of the possible symptoms of this condition and its related conditions, it may be necessary to examine symptoms that may be caused by complications of Vasomotor rhinitis, underlying causes of Vasomotor rhinitis, associated conditions for Vasomotor rhinitis, risk factors for Vasomotor rhinitis, or other related conditions.

Treatments for Vasomotor rhinitis

Treatment list for Vasomotor rhinitis: The list of treatments mentioned in various sources for Vasomotor rhinitis includes the following list. Always seek professional medical advice about any treatment or change in treatment plans.

- Avoid dry air
- Keeping air moist
- Vaporisers
- Decongestants are not recommended for treatment of vasomotor rhinitis